WAR ON JOSEPH COOK.

The two lectures by Joseph Cook before the Monaca Lake assembly are creating much discussion among republicans. He lectured on the Religious Signs of the Times on Wednesday, which gave him an opportunity to say something about prohibition. That opportunity he improved and probably said more than was wise. He also took occasion to ridicule the republican party and charge it with moral cowardice. On Thursday he spoke on Ultimate America, and again went much out of his way to attack the republican party and commend the third party. The State Journal is especially bold in its criticism of Mr. Cook, and says:

"He took advantage of his subject to arraign the Catholic church for its unfriendly relation to the common schools. The directors were justly made to blush at Mr. Cook and took pains to repudiate all responsibility for his language, one of the foundation principles of the assembly being nonsectarianism. However, there seems to be no principle set forth by the directors which some important egotist does not palpably violate, relying on his reputation so to do. Mr. Cook is so wrapped up in himself that he fails to see the great army of liberal-minded people who are willing that the constitution shall stand and all men be permitted to worship God according to the dictates of their consciences. Some of the more responsible of the prohibitionists themselves declared publicly that the speaker had made an unenviable exhibition of himself. It would be well for the arrogant, bombastic Mr. Cook to confine himself to such subjects as his piety and his professions until he works off some of his bigotry and partisanship."

In regard to his Thursday lecture on Ultimate America, the Journal makes this criticism:

"It is to be hoped that Joseph Cook has had his last say at Lakeside. Yesterday he filled out his contract with a lecture said to be on Ultimate America, but which was largely given over to abuse of the press for criticizing him. He has repeatedly transgressed the rules of the assembly, and the directors should not give him another opportunity of leading them into embarrassment. He is a brash man and a fluent speaker, but a rampant, aggressive egotist, who will not bridle his tongue under any circumstances."

In the main this criticism is correct. Mr. Cook delivered two powerful lectures. They were instructive. They were well worth hearing, but they were unfortunately shorn of much of their beauty and influence by their partisan spirit. It is a strange thing that the Assembly can't have a temperance day, or Joseph Cook, or Walter Thomas Mills, without disturbing the peace and harmony of the members by pitching into politics, and the worst kind of politics at that. Suppose Dr. Gunnarson, or Dr. Raymond, or Governor Hoard should have made some vicious attacks upon the prohibition party, how would our friends of the third party like that kind Monaca Lake Assembly tactics?

There would be a general howl from the Richmonds, from the Hastings, from the Chafins, and from hundreds of others, and a crying down of such enemies of the prohibition party. Well, then, will our friends of the third party claim that the republicans have not just as good a right to complain when their principles are assailed by the Pharisees of modern politics?

It is hoped for the good of the assembly, for the cause which it represents, that when it has a temperance day, that it will be turned into an "intemperate" day, and that when the Cooks and the Mills are hired to lecture that decent republicans won't be forced to pay their money to hear such men slander the republican party.

In this matter, reform is necessary.

GOVERNOR HOARD TO THE CLERGY.

Christ said to Peter: 'Feed my sheep.' With me it is a question of feed. 'You ask me to come to church, I am struggling six days in the week with the hard problems of life and with the temptation to be cheap and a wrong neighbor. Yet when I go to church I hear the sermons against Sabbath breaking, a mere sin of statute, to one against lying.—Governor Hoard.

There are a good many points in Governor Hoard's address to the clergy, delivered at Monaca on Friday forenoon, that are well worth pondering, and one of them is the foregoing quotation. There is very much in it that demands some serious thought, because the clergy to-day, with all their grand work and much of self-sacrifice, are not exactly utilizing their powers in the right direction. They do not seem to touch or to reach men and women and the children that need most to be reached.

Several weeks ago the Gazette took occasion to take a humble part in the discussion of that very important and practical question, "Why are so many church pews empty?" It is a question that is beginning to attract much attention, not only in the large cities, but in the smaller ones like Janesville and Madison. Christ's command, or appeal to Peter, "Feed my sheep," does not seem to be followed as a general rule. Theories largely take the place of things practical and helpful. Weary women, who are care-worn and much concerned about many things, do not have their burdens lightened nor sunshine thrown into their dark lives. Men, who are tired by hard work and low wages, are not usually blessed or encouraged by the words coming from the pulpit, and therefore they do not go to church.

What Governor Hoard urged upon the clergy was to preach a more helpful gospel, to make the standard of goodness of the pulpit more practical and far less theoretical, to reach out among men in a broader and heartier fashion, to draw men into them by the same gospel of love and deeds of kindness and words of encouragement that drew the multitudes to Jesus. He wanted the clergy to preach against the sin that cheats men, that bears false witness against one's neighbor, that tears down a man's character, that makes him unuseful in a business transaction. A sermon that does not uplift a man, that does not feed him with bread that is truly the bread of life, does not help him, and therefore is contrary to the injunction of Christ to Peter. Governor Hoard illustrated one of his points in favor of practical preaching, by the following:

"I am reminded here of a story. In the old slavery days a planter scooped one of his hands one morning and the following colloquy ensued:
"Hello, Uncle Peter, I hear you are getting to be a great preacher among the darkeys."
"Yes, massa, de Lord open my mouth 'cassionly."
"Well, Pete, what do you preach on?"
"De sins ob de people, massa."
"That's a good subject, Pete; and by the way, you can be of some service to me, for you darkeys are cleaning out my hen roost and ham house at a great rate, and I want you to preach against stealing."

The old darkey shook his head and said: "An't I do it, massa. If I go to de church, I hear de massa say 'ad free a coldness ober de meatin'."
There was much in Governor Hoard's address that appealed to the heart and conscience of men. He wanted the preachers of to-day to be intelligent interpreters of the sermon on the Mount, a sermon that is better than all creeds.

The Hon. Elihu Colman, of Fond du Lac, is a candidate for the postmaster ship of that city. The Gazette speaks the sentiment of a great many republicans in this part of the state when it expresses the hope that Mr. Colman will be successful. If there is any republican leader or worker in the Second district that merits the good will of the party as well as recognition by the administration, that man is Elihu Colman. He is not only a man of rare integrity, of acknowledged ability, of high Christian character, but he has never failed to heartily respond to all demands of the party. In every campaign he has been in the fore of the battle and very efficient. He has done much and has asked but little, and it seems that the powers that be should not hesitate to honor Mr. Colman with one of his best gifts.

An Appleton dispatch says that Senator William Kennedy returned last night from Winnipeg. He is very close-mouthed since his return, but it is understood quite clearly that he has been retained as Burke's counsel and will have charge of his defense. Kennedy's acquaintance with the detectives and lawyers at Winnipeg was very laughable, he being closely followed and watched as though he was a government conspirator.

It would seem from a reading of Governor Hoard's address before the Monaca Lake assembly, that he is just as competent to talk to the clergy as he is to the farmer.

A Lucky Find.

William Dalquist is the name of a lucky Finlander who at present is a day laborer in B. A. Gray's saw mill at the West end. William will cease laboring shortly, however, and his himself to the land he was born in to spend the remainder of his life. The fact is, William, who has been in this country for some six years or more and who has been a hard worker all his life, is one of the lucky persons who drew a "plum" at the drawing of the Louisiana State Lottery held on Jan. 18th last, which drew the capital prize of $600,000. When Mr. Dalquist was made aware of his good fortune by a state ment in the Tribune that that number was the lucky one, he was overjoyed beyond measure and was the recipient of many congratulations from his numerous friends and at the same time not a few were envious of his good fortune. Mr. W. A. Ford here immediately offered Dalquist $14,800 for his little slip of paper, but William thought he would do his own cashing and thus save the $200, which he did. As soon as he came back to his home, where his father and mother, who are poor old people, live, The $15,000 Mr. Dalquist says will be more than enough to keep his parents, himself and one of his three daughters, which was said with slight distortion of facial muscles, tending to a smile for the rest of their days.—Duluth (Minn.) Tribune, July 16.

NOVELTIES IN JEWELRY.

Vertical ring settings are a fad at present. The stained ivory and silver deposit craze has reached penultimate. Novelty in link cuff-buttons include a pair of miniature hand bellows.

Some very handsome parasol handles are shown in exquisitely carved coral. Polished silver gnomes, smiling with impish glees, are grotesque toothpick stands.

Bracelets have been devised as horse-shoes, the ends held well together by slender chains.

Combination knots of platinum and gold as cuff-buttons have secured a good hold on public fancy.

Silver tea and coffee pots are ornamented with Japanese characters in silver oxidize, and are quite a fad.

Numbered among the fanciful designs in book marks is one of silver, with tiny cockle shells imbedded in coral.

Individual salts and peppers comprise among their number an oxidized silver pebble dog resting on its haunches.

A brooch just turned out of the factory is a dragon fly shaped as a crescent, and set plentifully with colored stones.

Hugo crystal balls flattened at the sides to hold portraits of favorite authors, are a late addition to library utensils.

THE KAISER IN ENGLAND.

EMPEROR WILLIAM'S ARRIVAL WARMLY GREETED.

Turkey and Serbia Mustering Troops in Evident Anticipation of a Conflict—Old World Affairs.

LONDON, Aug. 3.—Brilliant sunshine and cool breezes prevailed at Portsmouth this morning. The preparations for the reception of Emperor William of Germany were completed at an early hour. The town was handsomely decorated and the people were in holiday attire. An enormous flotilla of craft, consisting of royal and private vessels, filled the harbor, while the shore was densely crowded with spectators.

A dispatch from Portsmouth says: The German imperial yacht Hohenzollern, with the Emperor on board, was sighted, steaming slowly toward the harbor. Pilots have gone out to take her in charge. The Prince of Wales, on board the Royal yacht Osborne, has also started down the harbor to meet the Emperor. Salutes are booming from the forts and the war ships.

When the Osborne approached the Hohenzollern the Prince of Wales signalled hearty greetings to the Emperor, who responded in a friendly way. The two yachts then passed through lines of ironclads and gunboats to the harbor. The war vessels were trimmed with bunting, and as the yachts passed the yards were manned with seamen.

On reaching Cowes the Emperor went ashore at Trinity pier, where the Prince of Wales, who had already landed, bade him welcome. The Emperor and suite and the Prince then entered carriages, and accompanied by a military escort, were driven to Osborne, where the Emperor was received by the Queen. His majesty will be entertained at a family dinner at the palace this evening. The weather remained beautiful throughout the day.

THE MAYBRICK CASE.

More Testimony Taken at the Trial of the Woman Charged with Murder. LIVERPOOL, Aug. 3.—At the resumption of the trial of Mrs. Maybrick on the charge of poisoning her husband Dr. Humphreys was called to the stand and in reply to the prisoner's counsel said that if the idea of arsenical poison had not been suggested he would have made an affidavit on the basis of the autopsy performed on Mr. Maybrick's body that death resulted from acute congestion of the stomach. He could not mention any post-mortem symptoms in the case positively distinctive of arsenical poisoning which were not equally characteristic of gastritis or gastritis enteritis.

Count Carnot's Remains Removed.

MAGDEBURG, Aug. 3.—The remains of Count Carnot, the French statesman, who died in 1873, were sent to Paris today, the French government having decided to place the remains in the Pantheon. The coffin was followed to the railway station by the son of President Carnot, the burgomaster of Magdeburg, members of the municipal council, and officers of the garrison.

Servia Mustering Her Troops.

BELGRADE, Aug. 3.—The War Minister has ordered all three of the military classes of Servia to muster on Monday. The ostensible reason for the order is that the Bulgarian troops have been ordered to mass on the frontier on that day, and Servia desires to be prepared for any eventuality.

Extensive Fire at Glasgow.

LONDON, Aug. 3.—A dispatch received from Glasgow at noon stated that Cross' extensive chemical works were burning. McFarlane's distillery was threatened. A quantity of the vitriol from the chemical manufactory was running into the canal. The loss had already amounted to £20,000.

A Battle Imminent.

CAIRO, Aug. 3.—The main bodies of the Egyptian army and the dervish army are now almost within striking distance of each other. The dervishes are marching northward, slowly and cautiously.

Turkish Reserves Ordered Out.

CONSTANTINOPLE, Aug. 3.—Eighty thousand Turkish reserves have been called out. The Porte is buying uniforms and stores, and work is proceeding at the dock yards with feverish activity.

FATALLY STUNG BY BEES.

Jackson Graves Will Probably Die From the Sting of the Insects. ITHACA, N. Y., Aug. 3.—Jackson Graves, a farmer who lives four miles from this city, owns 100 colonies of bees. Yesterday he found two of his colts were being stung by bees and went out to save them.

The bees made a fierce attack on him and he was soon disabled and now lies at the point of death. The physicians who attended on him counted over 100 stings on his face and neck. He is missing. His accounts are being investigated, and it is currently reported that there is a big shortage, though the officials of the company being found in the possession at the time of the escape of Guyon.

A Truce Declared. NEW YORK, Aug. 3.—The officers of the Transcontinental Railway association report that a three months' truce has been declared on the differential rate troubles, in which the Canadian and Southern Pacific roads were the principal contestants.

THE WORLD'S FAIR.

Chicago, Decides to Organize a Stock Company With a Capital of $5,000,000.

CHICAGO, Aug. 3.—The committee on a World's exposition here in 1892 met Friday and it was determined to immediately open a general headquarters near the hotel center of the city and to put to work as speedily as possible such a force of clerks and employees as may be required to conduct the correspondence, receive visitors from neighboring States, encourage their co-operation in the movement, and perform the vast amount of labor incident to the location of the international show. A headquarters committee was therefore appointed by the Mayor, consisting of C. H. Schwab, J. L. Pearce and E. F. Cragin.

This preliminary over the financial problem was considered. James W. Scott gave valuable information concerning the contributions for the centennial exposition at Philadelphia, and set forth the advantages of an early announcement that Chicago has perfected its organization for the contest for the great exposition of 1892. He advised the formation of a stock company with ample capital, to be organized under the laws of the State of Illinois.

This proposition met with marked favor. Mr. C. L. Hutchinson had moved the appointment of a committee of five to formulate a financial scheme for the committee, and to report how much money will probably be necessary and the most feasible way of procuring it. These two suggestions were harmonized by directing this committee to apply for articles of incorporation of the "World's Exposition of 1892," the capital stock to be $5,000,000.

The Mayor named as the committee, Messrs. C. L. Hutchinson, James W. Scott, Jesse Spaulding, J. L. Pearce and W. C. Solp and Lyman J. Gago and Mr. J. E. Carson.

This committee will promptly determine upon the first active steps to be taken to put the machinery in motion. The executive committee will meet again on Tuesday, by which time it is believed public announcement of the plan to be adopted can be made.

EPIDEMIC AT WARSAW, ILL.

Fifteen Deaths and Eighty Cases of Bowel Complaint Within Two Days. HAMILTON, Ill., Aug. 3.—An epidemic of bowel complaint is raging at Warsaw and the people of that city are greatly alarmed. Fifteen deaths have occurred from the disease in the past day or two. Four people died yesterday and two this morning, and eighty cases are under treatment. The victims are old, middle-aged people and children. They are stricken suddenly and die in a short time. A leading citizen of Warsaw, who was telephoned to, admitted that there had been a few deaths, but said there was no occasion for alarm and that the State Board of Health had not been notified. From other reliable men it is learned that the people are almost terror-stricken. The epidemic is due to the late wet weather, cool nights, and hot days. The disease has appeared at Hamilton, and it is reported that it has become epidemic at Canton and Kahoka, Mo.

THE WHEELING BANK ROBBERY.

WHEELING, W. Va., Aug. 3.—Harry Seybold, the bank robber, has been released on bail, his father giving his security. It is absolutely certain that Hennig is entirely innocent of any connection with the theft. He was not an employee of the bank, and was persuaded by Seybold to believe that the money had been drawn from the Louisiana lottery. Hennig is a brother of Frank Hennig, the well-known actor. The total amount of Seybold's stealings was $33,700.

Taken Back to Dayton.

DAYTON, Ohio, Aug. 3.—Nelson Driggs and his wife, Gertrude, were brought from Cincinnati to jail here by Deputy United States Marshal in default of $10,000 bail each. They were arrested recently by secret service officials for distributing counterfeit greenbacks, $25,000 of the queer being found in their possession at the time of the escape of Guyon.

Supposed to Be Short in His Accounts.

PITTSBURGH, Pa., Aug. 3.—Capt. William A. Schreiber of the freight department of the Lake Erie road, Capt. A. W. stands high in military and social circles.

New York, Aug. 3.—The officers of the Transcontinental Railway association report that a three months' truce has been declared on the differential rate troubles, in which the Canadian and Southern Pacific roads were the principal contestants.

PASTOR KEOG'S

NERVETONIC

An infallible Remedy.

BEAVER, Ill., Nov. 23.

I am 27 years of age now; since I was 15 years old I was a sufferer of epilepsy. In Germany I was treated by one of the best physicians for five years, without relief. I then came to America and here I tried many so-called cures for that terrible disease, but I was so disappointed, that I gave up all hopes of ever getting rid of it, because it never seemed to get better. But after all I was convinced that there is a real remedy, which really cures the epilepsy. In the month of April

I commenced to take Pastor Keog's Nervetonic, and the effect of which was so marvelous, that only one seizure since then has returned, but now

2 months have elapsed and no more seizures have returned. I am now a healthy man, and my business is flourishing. I am now a healthy man, —From the San Francisco (Cal.) Elevator: Madame Luis is a very rapid speaker; her voice is musical, her flow of language choice and her style impressive. She immediately captivates her audience and keeps its attention until the close. She is the best lady speaker that has ever been in our midst and we advise no one to miss the opportunity of hearing her. The admission to this lecture has been placed at the small sum of 25 cents. No one should fail to be present.

—From Mrs. M. Leland, president of Ladies Aid Society, White, Minnesota, May 21, 1889: TO WHOM IT MAY CONCERN.—I consider Madame Luis a person of culture and refinement, one who has been thoroughly educated and who can entertain and instruct an audience in a wonderful manner. Her lectures are sources of great knowledge to all who hear them. I can recommend her to all intelligent people. Madame Luis will deliver her lecture on "Hayti and the Haytiens" at the Court Street M. E. church on Wednesday evening, August 7th. Admission 25c.

—Galbraith Bros. received a cablegram from Scotland this week, that their celebrated Clydesdale stallion, Lord Ailes, had been awarded first premium at the Highland and Agricultural Society show now being held at Melrose. This is the largest and most important stock show in the country, and as the competition is always very keen, the honor is no light one. Lord Ailes is valued at $10,000. Galbraith Bros. also secured second prize in the class of brood mares for one of their own raising. The latter is from a strain of blood used on the Galbraiths' farm for nearly sixty years.

—A South Main street young lady who was entertaining friends (?) at a late hour last evening, heard a knock at the door, which she opened and found what she supposed to be a ghost. The young lady fainted; her friend came to the rescue but it was some time before she showed any signs of recovery. The dress of the visitor was not quite appropriate to the occasion, but the object of the visit was for immediate help, as one of the children was in a dangerous condition. By the generous use of water the young lady was restored, after which the visitor who was arrayed in white had her wish gratified, and the young man received a satisfactory explanation of the circumstances.

—"Riverview Park," said one of our citizens to a Gazette reporter this morning, "is one of the most delightful spots in the country in which to spend a few weeks for genuine recreation. The scenery viewed from this camping ground is simply magnificent. The natural thick groves of trees among which are the majestic knolls, the springs and the majestic 'old Rock' make this place an seldom equalled as a location for a summer resort. I believe if some of Janesville's capitalists would take hold of this matter, fix up the grounds, erect cottages and judiciously advertise, there is no reason why this city can not become as famous a summer resort for Chicago people as Geneva, and it certainly very easy of access."

—Mr. and Mrs. H. P. Fales and family, of 100 Locust street, fourth ward, will remove to Madison next week, where they will make their future home. Mr. Fales and family have been residents of Rock county for many years and are highly esteemed and respected by all who know them. While their many friends regret to lose them as residents of this city, yet the best wishes of all will go with them to the city of their adoption. Their daughter, Miss Ida, who is president of the Christian Endeavor Society of the Baptist church, and her brother, Louis H. Fales, after the regular meeting last evening, was tendered a sort of informal reception by her many young friends at the Baptist church parlors. Ice cream and cake was served, and a genuine good time ensued. In September Miss Fales will begin a regular course in the State University at Madison.

—The many friends in this city of Rev. C. B. Wilcox will be glad to hear that there is a likelihood that he may be called to a still more responsible field of labor. He is at present pastor of the First M. E. church at Oshkosh, a large and elegant church with a large membership. He has filled the pastorate during the past four years, with signal success, and now there comes a loud call for him from the Methodist church at Appleton. The demand upon him is so cordial and unanimous, that there is a probability that Mr. Wilcox may accept it. He has made his mark at Oshkosh, and his usefulness and fitness for large fields of labor are so well known that the best changes in the conference seem to be at his disposal.

Mr. Wilcox deserves all he has gained. He is a growing young man, and a bright promise is before him.

THE NORTHWESTERN SHOPS.

ENGINEER JOHN HEATH PROMOTED TO THE FOREMANSHIP OF THE SHOPS IN THIS CITY.

CHICAGO & NORTHWESTERN RAILWAY CO., DEPT. OF MOTIVE POWER AND MACHINERY, CHICAGO, JULY 30TH, 1889.

Circular.

Mr. John Heath has been appointed foreman of Janesville shops, in place of Mr. E. S. Hayward, deceased, to take effect August 1st, 1889.

G. W. TILTON, Supt. Motive Power and Machinery Approved.

J. M. WHITMAN, Gen'l Manager.

Mr. Heath assumed the duties of his new position on Thursday, and is now receiving the hearty congratulations of his many friends. Mr. Heath commenced railroading when quite a young man. He was first employed on the Milwaukee & Prairie du Chien road as fireman in 1857, at which he continued for two years and four months. In June, 1860, he entered the employ of the Northwestern company, also as fireman, and July, 1863, he was promoted to be an engineer, continuing in this employ until the present time. He is now 47 years of age, and has resided in Janesville since 1860.

One thing remarkable in the service of Mr. Heath is the fact that he has traveled over one million miles, which is vouched for by his diary, which he has carefully preserved during the time he has been on the road. The following, clipped from the Railway Age, fully explains:

CHICAGO & NORTHWESTERN RY. CO., CHICAGO, JULY 3, 1889.

To the Editor of the Railway Age:

I have been very much interested by a statement that has been made to me by Mr. John Heath, a locomotive engineer in the service of the Chicago & Northwestern Company. It covers his work with the company for a period of twenty-nine years; and is an excellent illustration how figures can accumulate from day to day.

Mr. Heath entered the service of the company in June, 1860, as fireman; was promoted to engineer in July, 1863. He commenced to keep at first only a record of the mileage that he made. From August, 1866, this record was enlarged to a daily journal, showing where he ran each day, the engine and miles made. From November 15th, 1872, a record of the trains was kept. Mr. Heath's service up to July 1, 1889, was as follows:

Mileage as engineer.....465,417
 "as fireman.....92,525
 Total.....557,942 miles have been run in passenger service.

During this time Mr. Heath has never met with an accident or mishap and has never so much as had the paint scratched off his engine. In his twenty-nine years of service as an engineer he has never been reprimanded by any officer of the company and has been absent from duty for one month only.

These figures and facts have been of interest to me and to others, as being a most remarkable showing, and any one that any man should be proud of.

J. M. WHITMAN, General Manager.

To the 988,775 miles must be added his mileage for the month of July, 1889, which is not included in the above, which will make his total run foot up 1,002,300 miles.

For several years Mr. Heath has been on the day passenger between this city and Green Bay. He is widely known throughout the northwest, not only as a competent and careful engineer, but as a leading member of the Masonic order. Besides, he is a gentleman in every sense. His acquaintances being his steadfast friends, and he is the friend of all who seek to better their life work. He is popular with his associates on the road and in the community in which he lives or moves, and his promotion to the foremanship of the Northwestern shops in this city, is one deserving to him and of pleasure to his acquaintances.

For the present Mr. James Welch, one of the oldest freight engineers on the road, succeeds to Mr. Heath's passenger run. The permanent appointment is to be announced from headquarters in Chicago.

THE ODD FELLOWS.

A JOINTLY GOOD TIME AT CRYSTAL SPRINGS YESTERDAY.

The Odd Fellows and their friends to the number of five hundred or more assembled at Crystal Springs yesterday, the occasion being the annual picnic of the order in this city, invitations to the county fraternity being responded to by good numbers. The steamers Enterprise and Billie Burr were kept busy all day and late into the evening carrying the picnickers to and from the pleasure grounds. There was no end to the amusements and diversions on the grounds. At two o'clock in the afternoon Grand Master Rich, of Horicon, and Past Grand Master J. W. Osterlander, of Jefferson, addressed the Odd Fellows in the dancing pavilion. The amusements then began, and prizes were awarded as follows:

Potato Race—Bert Baldwin first prize; Geo. Brownell, second.

Foot race for boys under 12—100 yards—Thornton Blakely, first prize; Carl Buchholz, second.

Foot Race for Men—100 yards—Otto Schicker, first prize; Will Rosow, second.

Wheelbarrow Race—Will Watt, first prize; Arthur Windish, second.

The Tug of War—eight men on a side, James A. Fathers captured one side, and Thomas Mahone the other. The contest was exciting in the extreme, but was finally awarded to Fathers' team.

Prof. Luckwood's orchestra was present and furnished music for dancing in the pavilion during the afternoon and evening, there being many young people present to enjoy the dance. The party did not break up until a late hour. All voted it the most successful picnic of the season.

AN HONOR WELL WON.

MRS. J. L. FORD'S SUCCESS IN "RECOGNITION DAY."

One of the attractions at the Monona Lake Assembly was the Chautauque Recognition day, on which fifty-one graduates passed the arches and were received—forty-four women and seven men. The audience on that day—Wednesday—was a brilliant one. Mr. Joseph Cook delivered the recognition address and presented the diplomas.

When the names of the graduates were being called the persons named stepped forward and accepted the diplomas from Mr. Cook. Sometimes a diploma would be delivered without a word (excepting the name), then once in a while there would be the mention of one seal or three seals, then there would follow well-rounded applause from the great hosts of the Chautauque Circle. Once there was a diploma with twelve seals, and the applause was long and hearty. When the last diploma was handed to Mr. Cook by Professor Shearer, the great orator gazed it in two hands, and the professor called out in a loud voice, "Mrs. L. A. Ford, second seal!" At this the Chautauque salute was given in royal style, and hundreds of white handkerchiefs were silently waved in the air, and then came the outburst of applause. Mrs. Ford approached Mr. Cook amid the shower of handkerchiefs, and in presenting her diploma he made one of his best bows. It was a proud afternoon for Mrs. Ford. She has won more seals than any other member of the Chautauque Circle in the west.

MOTEL BURGLARY.

THE MORGAN HOUSE AT MILTON JUNCTION ROBBED OF SILVERWARE.

The Morgan house at Milton Junction was burglarized on Thursday night and about fifty to sixty dollars worth of table silverware taken, consisting of spoons, knives, forks, and napkin rings, the same being left for the night on three tables in the dining room. Two of the napkin rings were highly prized; one had belonged to Mrs. Waldo's grandmother, and the other to Mr. Waldo's father. The burglary is supposed to have been committed during the time the night train was in from the west, and while the night clerk was attending to business in the office. One of the napkin rings has been found. No clue to the burglars.
